After graduation, she was the recipient of The Corning Fellowship which enabled her to study and travel extensively throughout Asia and Africa. Ms. Green Warren was married to Nathaniel Warren at the Trinity Baptist Church in 1983 in Baltimore City and later divorced after more than 15 years of marriage.

A 1984 graduate of Harvard Law School, Ms. Green Warren was admitted to the Maryland

Ms. Green Warren was devoted to her daughter who was born in 1984 and was proud to have been part of a legacy family, following Ms. Warren's graduation from Yale in 2002. Her daughter shared that "My mom was an extremely loving person who put the needs of others above her own. She always did her best to take care of me and remind me how much she cared. She was my true confidant and gave me so much wisdom. I don't know how I will be able to go on without her and I will miss her every day." Cindy will be remembered by her lifelong friends as a loving, kind and brilliant person. "We are heartbroken by her death" said her college roommate Dorothy Bonett of Mount Airy, Maryland.

“ As Cynthia's Godfather I had the privilege of watching her grow from infancy to adulthood. As an adult, Cynthia was polished and intellectually gifted. Keats must have anticipated Cynthia when he wrote: "A thing of beauty is a joy forever."

I shall always be grateful for the joy she brought to my life.

“ I am so sorry to hear about Cynthia's passing. I am the director of the REED program at the University of Baltimore. Cynthia served as a research assistant for me on a real estate tracking system. She was so wise and detailoriented, and had so much passion for the program and the students. She was like the mayor of the program! We are so grateful that the family has chosen to support the program in her name. I would be happy to connect with the family when appropriate.

“ I remember simply staring at Cindy in awe when I first met her, finding it somewhat of a surreal experience that someone with such credentials could be so unassuming, sweet and humble....and such an amazing big sister as well.

My deepest and most sincere condolences are extended to Alice, Mrs. Green, Lisa and the rest of the family, all of whom treated me as one of their own while a student miles away from my own family and country.

May the angels welcome her into paradise, and may Cindy's soul rest in peace and light perpetual shine upon her.
